Is your district planning to purchase educational software in the area of literacy? Do you want to be an informed consumer and purchase software based on scientifically based reading research? There is a resource available for you in the state of Montana through February 1, 2006!

Technology Solutions That Work Database is made possible in our state by Northwest Regional Education Laboratory. This tool provides consumers with in-depth, unbiased analysis of educational software in literacy. Tap into this resource and ensure that your students make significant gains in literacy. Just contact Kathi Tiefenthaler at ktiefenthaler@mt.gov or 406-444-1872 for further information.